Product Description	HellermannTyton's Cable Stacker Mount is a cable management device used to organize and mount wires and relieve congestion along wire pathways found in conveyor systems and automation equipment. These mounts feature individual cradle partitions which enable faster installs and reduced rework and improve appearance and aesthetics. The EZ Build concept holds cables in place via a proprietary compartmental design and retention pins, which separate different types of cabling and, in many cases, eliminate the need for cable ties. Cable Stackers are secured to surfaces using two screws.
